

Dear Joost students,

first of all, we would like to thank Una for the fun and “easy going” presentation. It’s nice to see that you are having a lot of fun time beside the school activities – we hope, we’ll fill in our lack of partying soon!

As it was to be expected, some things considering the exhibition are looking to go to the wrong direction in the last minute, but we are doing everything in our power to make them right. On Saturday we start to put up the exhibition, first with driving the biggest artworks to the gallery (at 6 a.m.!). It is really a terrible timing because of the up-coming Easter holidays, so we are hoping for the best.

On Sunday one of the artists, Neža Jurman is having a dinner for all the artists and curators, which will take place in the gallery space and will be filmed. Later, she will manipulate the movie and present it at the exhibition.

The title of the exhibition is actually the same as the date – 4.4. We were thinking a lot about it, had a few ideas and in the end decided for this simple version. It stands for the artists and art, which is alive and happening right now, in this very moment. We also attached a non final version of the official invitation, so you can read informatively the English text about the exhibition (we had a lot of thing to correct, so I still don’t have the final version and instead I am sending you this one).

The question you presented, considering the ways of simulating ones creativity seems very interesting, since this is usually considered to be quite intimate and stays at least in a way hidden from the others. Also we love the idea of cooking at your place – I need to say that we have some vegeterians among us, but in general, we all love good food and good drinks that go along. Slovenia has really quality (and quite cheap) wine so we’ll be glad to cover that part.

We invite you to visit our page, which was made especially for the exhibition:

(“četrti četrti” in slovenian languge means fourthfourth/4.4. if you write it with words)

If you are interested you can also check out the exhibition which takes place at Center for Contemporary art in Celje, the curator and the artist are both from our group of World of art students: Lenka Đorojevič-artist, Maja Antončič-curator.

We wish you a stimulating week and hope we manage to send the last letter just before you arrive. Currently it's snowing here, so we are still waiting for the spring to finally come! We also attached some photos of the artworks in progress.

We are looking forward to hear from you.

Kind regards,

World of Art students
